

Why has your firm contacted me about a debt?

You have been contacted because our firm has been instructed to recover an outstanding balance on behalf of a client (the original creditor).

This does not automatically mean court action is underway.

Common reasons include missed payments, inability to contact you directly, escalation for legal review, or transfer of the debt.

We act lawfully and transparently and follow FCA guidance.

Suggested agent prompts:

- “This call may be unexpected — I’m here to explain why we’ve been in touch.”
- “This doesn’t mean court action is happening.”
- “Would you like me to explain where this account came from?”
